FOOD FOR FIDO

Cook up a homemade feast for your beloved pooch with great recipe secrets at Southern California-based kitchen Just Food For Dogs' monthly complimentary cooking classes. The kitchen, opened in 2011, serves up dishes all made from fresh ingredients USDA/FDA certified for human consumption. Led by certified pet chef Andrea Parsek and kitchen chef Justin Conlon, the classes offer a wealth of canine knowledge and address obesity, digestive disorders, cancer, diabetes and more. Canine clinical nutrition professor Dr. Oscar Chavez affirms, "Pet parents should understand they have a direct influence on one of the factors that matters most to their pet's health: nutrition."
