

Itching for a Solution

Beckham (featured on the cover) is a fun-loving French Bulldog with an outgoing personality. Unfortunately, despite being the clown prince of the family, he also had chronic skin problems that caused him a lot of discomfort.

The litany of skin issues that plagued poor Beckham included yeast overgrowth, hot spots and chronic itching. He would also get severely red skin and pimples around his mouth and paws. To combat the constant onslaught of skin infections, Beckham was prescribed antibiotics after each flare-up.

“Omega Plus has been game-changing for our little man,” says Holly, Beckham’s pet parent. “Thanks to the Omega Plus and the clean nutrition of JustFoodForDogs meals, we no longer have to rush to a specialized skin vet when flare-ups occur, only to be put on a series of antibiotics. Our Frenchie now lives a happy and comfortable life, free of inflammation.”

Why Use Omega Plus?

Scientific research has shown that fish, in particular fatty fish such as sardines and anchovies, contain critical nutrients that:

- Promote healthy skin and a soft, shiny coat
- Support healthy immune functions
- Improve joint, heart and brain health

With its essential omega-3 fatty acids, JustFoodForDogs Omega Plus Premium Icelandic Fish Oil can help deliver far-reaching health benefits to your dog or cat.

Sourced from Clean Icelandic Waters

Omega Plus is sourced from whole sardines, anchovies, herring and mackerel caught in the cold and sustainable waters off the coast of Iceland. Our fish oil is molecularly distilled to purify and concentrate it, and it's cold-pressed without the use of degrading high temperatures to ensure that no nutrients are lost. Furthermore, Omega Plus is free from genetically modified organisms (GMOs).

Analytical testing is performed to ensure that Omega Plus is pure and does not contain environmental toxins often associated with seafood. Unlike many fish oil products for pets, Omega Plus is human-grade, exceeding the highest quality standards for supplements intended for human consumption.

Count on Omega Plus

Omega Plus delivers the benefits of two essential Omega-3 fatty acids: EPA and DHA. EPA is an anti-inflammatory, and DHA supports brain development and healthy neurological functioning. As a result, Omega Plus helps:

- Maintain healthy, shiny coats by inhibiting the growth of pathogens, including Malassezia pachydermatis, which causes yeast infections in dogs
- Control allergies and skin disease by nurturing the skin barrier
- Reduce pain while increasing mobility related to a degenerative joint disease such as arthritis, hip dysplasia and patellar luxation
- Provide anti-inflammatory benefits throughout the body, including the gastrointestinal system
- Prevent some brain diseases associated with aging, such as dementia

A great stand-alone supplement, Omega Plus is also the perfect complement to Joint Care Plus and Joint Care. Together, these supplements provide the best possible nutraceutical support for your dog's joints.
